

A shrunken sea

A draft proposal that California Resources Secretary Mike Chrisman announced Tuesday would transform the Salton Sea from what it is now into a mix of lake, saline habitat, exposed playa and brine sink. Chrisman plans to present a final recommendation to lawmakers sometime in April.

